Meet The Chiropractor

Dr. Nik Dukovac grew up in Northern Ontario, where Chiropractic care helped him recover from hockey injuries. Inspired by those results, he studied Human Kinetics at the University of Guelph, then earned his Doctor of Chiropractic in Toronto, graduating in 2007.

His career took him around the world — from owning two successful clinics in South Australia for 15 years, to serving local communities in Nicaragua for 12 months, following a calling to give back. Now back home in Canada, Dr. Nik was honoured to take over Fairway Chiropractic Centre from the beloved Dr. Steve Murdoch in 2023. He continues the clinic's legacy of caring for every patient as if they were family — with hands-on Chiropractic.

For Dr. Nik, Chiropractic isn't just a profession — it's a calling.
